SEATTLE (Wash.) Dec. 27.—The grimmest story of marine disaster in all the history of the hungry North Pacific is expected by local marine men from Clallam Bay tomorrow. The fate of nine vessels, caught by the Christmas storm in that body of water which lies like a trap right in the path tically defenseless against such powerful armament as the Germans can bring to bear. The reliance of Venesuela appears to be on the practical difficulties Germany will encounter.

Venezuela, it is asserted, has no need of outside supplies, and while corn is much used in an emergency, there are many other cereals which can be put to use. Moreover, the natives are said to be meat eaters almost exclusively, and to have no need for corn or outside products.
With reference to German occupation of one or more ports, it is thought terests are expected to appeal to their several governments.

There are a few hopeful signs on both sides that at the last moment a clash may be averted. The German Minister to Venezuela is still at his post, and there is some hope that he may still bring about a settlement. The outlook for a cash settlement, however, is rather meager, since Venezuela's treasury is empty and all of the Venezuelan officials are on half pay.

United States Assured That No Territory Will Be Seized by Germans.

With reference to German occupa-tion of one or more ports, it is thought to be likely that Venezuela will rely on harassing the invaders. The fresh water supply of La Guayra and Mara-caibo is drawn from interior streams and lakes, and these are expected to be cut off. The interior of Vene-suela is considered safe, as it is said that it would take at least 200,000 Ger-man soldiers to make headway through the wild and uneven country against guerrilla tactics.

There appears also to be much reliance on the part of Venezuela in the sentiment and sympathy which can be aroused within the United States when a European invader is actually operating on American soil, and Venezuela, it is understood, also relies largely on the fact that foreign capital is invested in the large Venezuela porta, and would be the heaviest sufferer from any destruction wrought by the Germans.

Bradstreet's Annual Review of Trade Presents Marvelous Figures.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS, P.M.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The annual review of American trade, finance and industry, prepared by Bradstreet's, and given publicity today, declares 1901 to be "a record-breaker" among the five succeeding years of commercial expansion enjoyed by the United States. Its preëminence, the review states, was all the more notable because it suffered from a combination of happenings that in a normal year would have proved depressing, if not disastrous. Enumerated in the latter are the machinists' and steel strikes, the stock panio of May, the failure of several imprudently-managed combinations, the efforts of such combinations, including that in copper, to fix prices; the shortage in corn, cotton and oats, and the assassination of President McKinley. Summarising the general situation, the Review says:

"Pig fron production will be not far from one-seventh larger than the heavlest ever before recorded. Shoe production and shipments were never before equaled. Anthractic coal production have been apparent. Iron production will be fully lipper cent. larger than the record. Woolen manufacturing has been helped by low cost of material and good demand for clothing. All the returns are not so favorable. There has been favored by heavy advances in farm products, which have done much to counterbalance reductions in yield. Export trade has shown signs of hesitation after years of steady advance, and imports have increased but mainly in materials intended for domestic manufacture, and the margin in favor of exports is still enormously heavy." (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS, P.M.)

mestic manufacture, and the margin in favor of exports is still enormously heavy."

The bank clearings are estimated at $118,000,000,000, a gain of 28 per cent. over last year, and 26 per cent, since 1899.

The Middle States show the greatest increases in clearings. As 70 this showing the Review says:

"Briefly summarised, the year has seen transacted an aggregate of general business as reflected in bank clearings, far in excess of any preceding period; has witnessed stock speculation, rampant beyond the dreams of old-time brokers, checked and curtailed by one of the sharpest stock panics in history, and yet with a remarkable minimum of disturbance of general financial operations; has watched general industry and production grow steadily until new and larger figures, were needed to express the outputs of coal and ore and iron and steel and leather and lumber and a multitude of other branches; has seen the freight transportation facilities of the country strained to the breaking point, prove insufficient to handle the volume of business offered, and finally has witnessed a volume of holiday business passing all previous bounds, both in quantity and quality, and the vastly increased purchasing power of the public in late years. From the standpoint of the present estimates, the clearings this year will exceed the highest records of preceding years by one-fourth. Gross railway earnings have increased 12 per cent, and net returns have gained 16 per cent, over the best preceding year.

The failures for the year are placed at 10.885, with aggregate liabilities of "This is a gain of 5.6 per cent. in number over 1899, but back of that year comparisons favor the current one. Liabilities have not gained relatively so heavily, as shown by the fact that they are only 2.4 per cent. larger this year than last, and 6.8 per cent. larger that year than last, and 6.8 per cent. larger than in 1899. In only three of the past thirteen years, in fact, were liabilities smaller than they were this year. A point often lost sight of is that there is a constant accession of new individuals, firms and corporations in business each year, and this alone furnishes a basis for the recording of numerous unsuccessful ventures. There are now 172,000 more people in business than there were a decade ago, an increase of 16 per cent., but failures have only increased 5 per cent. in number during that period, and liabilities are only 20 per cent. larger. A continuing unfavorable feature is the small percentage of assets to liabilities. It is only 46.4 per cent. this year, as against 47.2 per cent. a year ago, and 52 per cent. in 1899 and 1898."

As to prices, the Review says: "Wheat has reached the highest point in 1899 and 1898."

As to prices, the Review says:
"Wheat has reached the highest point than for almost a decade, and other produce has sympathized.

notable in this respect being leather, building materials, chemicals and drugs and miscellaneous products.

"Frices, as a whole, are 3 per cent. lower than in February, 1900, and December, 1896, but are higher than in any year from 1896 until the third quarter of 1899. If other products follow the lead of food products, as is not unusual, a farther advance of the former is not unlikely. Iron and steel prices seem to lead in this latter-day advance, but the other metals have broken away from them, and copper, lead and tin are weakening, the result of failures of unjudicious attempts at controlling production. Food products, largely imported, like coffee and sugar, have reached the low-water mark prices on large production.

In summarising the foreign trade, the Review declares that there has been a falling off in the demand abroad for American iron, steel and copper, a loss in profits in cotton exports, a reduction in the exports of corn and oats, phenomenal wheat shipments, and larger shipments of animals and provisions.

Exports are estimated at $1,455,000,000, or 1 per cent. less than the record of last year. This calculation treats Porto Rico and Hawaii as American territory. As to imports, the Review declares:

"Imports have gained slightly. They will aggregate at least $875,000,000, a declares:
"Imports have gained slightly. They will aggregate at least $875,000,000, a gain of 5.5 per cent. over 1900, leaving the balance of domestic exports over imports not far from $560,000,000, or the third largest excess in the country's history."
The Review states that the activity in transportation was unprecedented.

The outlook is treated, in conclusion, as follows:
"Many elements of strength, and some of the opposite character present themselves to view. The quietness of export trade, checked by relatively higher prices here, and lack of new demand abroad, particularly in Germany, which country is reported selling iron and steel products below cost, are obstacles to increased shipments by this country. On the other hand English trade advices are rather better, and the predicted early suspension of hostilities in South Africa and the resumption of large gold shipments from that section, are favorable features presenting themselves. Europe apparently must buy our wheat and cotton freely, but as long as domestic activity in trade, particularly iron and steel, continues, the need of a foreign outlet is not regarded as pressing. If only a portion of the high hopes indulged in as a result of the recent conferences of capital and labor materialize, industrial peace and good commercial feeling and prosperity will have been powerfully furthered."

until about a year ago. His constant attention to the duties devolving upon him in his official capacity resulted in 1899 in a collapse. A trip to Europe was beneficial, and he soon recovered sufficiently to resume his duties. Toward the end of the last session of Congress he developed a complication of diseases, and, acting on the advice of his physicians, again visited various health resorts in Europe.

Upon his return, his condition showing no improvement, Senator Sewell went to Asheville, N. C., where he remained two months. He returned to his home about four weeks ago, and for a few days a slight improvement in his condition was noted. Within the past two weeks a succession of sinking spells greatly weakened him, and compelled his physicians to abandon the hope of prolonging his life. When death came, the Senator's family gathered at his bedside. He had been unconscious for some time before the end. SKETCH OF HIS LIFE

SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

William J. Sewell was born in Ireland in 1835, and came to this country at an early age. He engaged in mercantile pursuits, and at the outbreak of the Civil War was comfilesioned as captain in the Fifth New Jersey Volunteers; served during the war, and was brevetted brigadier-general for distinguished services at Chancellorsville, and major-general for gallant services during the war; was wounded at Chancellorsville and Gettysburg. After the war he became connected with the railroads in New Jersey, branches of the Pennsylvania Railroad system: was elected State Senator from Camden county in 1872, reilected in 1875, and again in 1878, and was president of the Senate in the years 1876, 1879 and 1850, when his party was in power: while yet a member of the Legislature, he was elected to the United States Senate in 1881, as the successor of Senator Theodore F. Randolph, and served until the close of his term, in 1887; was elected as a delegate to the Republican national conventions of 1876, 1880, 1884, 1888, 1892 and 1896, and on each ocasion was made chairman of his

FRESNO GRAND JURY BRINGS CHARGES OF BOODLING.
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.1
FRESNO, Dec. 27.—The grand jury FRESNO, Dec. 27.—The grand jury embodied in its report today a severe criticism of several justices and constables, finding that in two townships the respective officers are "holding the office for all they can make out of it." Condemnation is also expressed for the "floater" system. In the fifth township, the jury finds that prisoners are conveyed to the County Jail by team, when the service could be as expeditiously performed by rail at less than one-half the cost.

In the same township, out of 365 cases, sentence had been suspended in 206, or in other words "floated" onto the next town for the next constable and justice to enact the same farce over again. One hundred and sixty cases were committed to the County Jail. No fines were collected in any of these cases, and under the present law the cost to the county would be over $2000. In the fourth township, out of 501 cases looked into, its were either dismissed or "floaters" given. From the remaining eighty-three cases $142.50 was collected in fines, and the constable and justice charges would amount to over $3000.

The jury believes these practices are all wrong, and that these bills should be cut down to a reasonable amount.

TITZSIMMONS WILL FIGHT.

VETERAN PREPARES POR JEFF.

IN SEW YORK, Dec. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Robert Fitzsimmons will fight again. This was the statement made today by a person who stands very close to the Cornishman. When Champion Jeffries arrives in town and huris a challenge at Fitzsimmons, the lanky pugilist is expected to come out of his retirement and make a match.

Fitzsimmons has been training quietly for several weeks, and has made the remark more than once that he is the only man in the world who has a chance to whip the big boilermaker. The representative of one of the boxing clubs in California has been talking with Fitzsimmons for some time past with the idea of inducing him to fight, and tonight it was the common talk among a select coterie of sporting men that Jeffries's challenge would be accepted.

The argument set forth in favor of a fight between Jeffries and Fitzsimmons can insist on an even division of the purse or gross receipts that it would undoubtedly draw. Fitzsimmons can insist on an even division of the purse or gross receipts and make a pot of money, win or lose. He will also have an excellent opportunity of proving to the sporting world that he was not in the citation of the crowd by his splent.

Handsome Women's Suits $10

Most stores are having lots of trouble trying to sell their low-priced suits. No woman cares to buy a filmsy jaded suit, no matter how low the price. The more a store struggles to get rid of its garments, the surer you may be that the garments are not worth the buying.

$10,00 is a price any woman can pay. If the suit won't bring this amount you can rest assured you don't want it. It isn't the price that's remarkable, it's the suit. To speak plainly, we don't believe such value for the money was ever given in Los Angeles. You would hardly think such style and quality could be made up for so little. It wouldn't be possible if it was not for the seven Hale stores.

They come in all wool Venetian cloth, in either caster or Oxford gray. The jacket is that nobby box front so jaunty and becoming, with six buttons down the front and lined with nice tailor serge. The skirt comes in a new seven-gore with the prettiest flare effect. All told, it is a most winning costume and is sure to crowd the suit department today.

There are those, in touch with the situation, who say that Schumacher will get the appointment, and that his presence in the East at the present time is in connection with the pending change.

It will be recalled that there was a list of the light of the life to swing public sentiment in target of their principal freight tariffs covering the territory between St. Paul and the Pacific Coast. The new tariffs will make material reduction over those in effect at present, and will therefore cause a considerable flurry among the trans-continental systems.

sentiment in favor of the big combination, or will at least make the public apathetic regarding the coming attack of Gov. Van Sant. If great combinations in the Oregon Short Line was a temporary affair, and that just as soon as he had become thoroughly posted as to affairs in this intermountain region he would be called to take a position in Chicago under J. C. Stubbs, field a fine director for Harriman. The administration of Stubbs, however, has not proved to be the unqualified success anticipated in the matter of adjusting difficulties and faunting the olive branch of peace among the rival roads, consequently the rumor has not materialized.

Hawiey's salary in New York is said to be $16,000 a year; he holds control of the situation on the Harriman lines and steamboat companies, and has recently said to have been issuing orders over J. C. Stubbs's head. It goes without saying, however, that his successor will not have either the big salary nor the free hand that he has sigored, nevertheless, the position is now which is regarded as being a prize in the railroad lottery.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The Spectator, in reviewing the relations between Chile and Argentina, remarks that both are acting as if they expected war, and Chile as if she wished and intended it. The paper adds: "But for one factor of unknown force, we should say confidently that war between the two republics in the near future was almost inevitable, a war which would produce disaster at every stock exchange in the world, and might materially affect the future destinies of both Americas. The incalculable factor, of course, is the government at Washington."

The Spectator discusses the reasons that might poesibly induce the United States to interfere, and says that if President Roosevelt does intervene with the decision which characterises both himself and the United States, it is hard to see any course open to Chile except sullen submission. Her fleet would be swept off the waters, her sea path barred, all imports from Europe stopped, and her best port pass out of her hands, perhaps forever, as the Union is expanding its territory.

The Chileans would find no powerful friend in Europe, for the German fleet is not ready. Great Britain, who desires Argentina to be at peace, would approve President Roosevelt, who has Filipinos on his hands, and wants a magnificent surplus for the Isthmian Canal, will or will not interfere. mankind in favor of that exceptional

COUGHT THE LIFE OF HIS FALSE FRIEND.

IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.1 CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—Angelo Scalfa, closely pursued by Antonio Segnio rushed into the arms of two detectives in this city and begged for protection. It was the sensational termination of a 4000-mile man hunt in which Scalfa had been followed for three months, and had visited the principal cities of the Enstern States.

Both men were taken to the Harrison-street station, where Segnio told a remarkable story. Three months ago, he said, Scalfa was arrested in Indian Territory on the charge of illegally selling whisky. After spending a month in jail he appealed to Segnio, a friend and business man of South Mc-Alester, and upon assurances by Scalfa that the firm he represented would protect him Segnio mortgaged all his property and farnished $4000 bonds to secure the release of his friend. Upon being released, Scalfa immediately disappeared.

SANTA ANA, Dec. 27.—A high pressure of atmosphere that has been accumulating out on the great salt desert for the past two days, today resulted in a sandstorm that, in this vicinity, is unprecedented. A high wind carrying loads of sand and pebbles, that has been blowing fairly strong since Christmas Day, culminated today in a bilinding cyclonic sandstorm, rushed on by a wind that at times reached a velocity of eighty miles an hour. Much damage to railroad property and to crops is reported, several railroad accidents were narrowly averted, and the wind and sand still blow with intermittent severity.

TRAINS STALLED BY SAND.

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 27.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] The worst norther that has prevailed in this section for years is in full blast today. Three Southern Pacific trains are tied up, two, westbound, at Colton, and the eastbound local from Los Angeles, at Ontario, on account of the drifting sand banks near Etiwanda, where the wind has a wide reach, straight from the Cajon Pass. Up to a late hour this afternoon, no Los Angeles papers or mail have reached Riverside.

Considerable fruit was blown off the trees in exposed sections, and the loss will fall heavy on some of the orange growers. Shade trees and signboards suffered all over the city. In the old Reynolds Block, a piece of plastering was dislodged and crashed through the skylight into Witherspoon's grocery. Miss Aliee Wilson, the cashier, had her hand badly cut by the falling glass. The telephone and telegraph service was somewhat interfered with.

The weather this evening is still disagreeable, with a north wind, though not so strong as during the day. Orange growers say that the damage to fruit from pricking will increase the cull percentage, but how much cannot be stated until an investigation is made.

REDLANDS, Dec. 27.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] The morning train from Los Angeles, due to arrive here at 10:40 a.m., was several hours late today. The delay was due to heavy windstorms along the route, which have covered the tracks near Cucamonga with sand to such an extent as to delay traffic. Work trains were sent out from this point to relieve the situation.

At Rochester, twenty miles west of here, the Southern Pacific trains are blocked. There is from one to three feet of sand on forty lengths of rail there. There were no through trains to Los Angeles today. The Southern Pacific expects to have its track cleared by morning. The wind has ceased, and a large force is at work. The Santa Pe is not blocked. The roof of the Southern California icchouse, Just completed, was also taken off. Many barns and several houses in course of construction were blown down.

The livery stable of J. I. Baxter was badly damaged. The big glass dial of the town clock was broken by being struck with some flying object, stopping the clock.

Word has reached here that the storm played havoc with orchards north and east of here, uprooting many trees.

Southern Pacific trains that left Colton this afternoon were delayed at Bloomington on account of sand covering the track for several miles. Nearly all trains into this city tonight were late, owing to sand-covered tracks in the sandy portion of the road.

NORTH ONTARIO, Dec. 27.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.]
One of the strongest east winds that has visited this place for years has been blowing all day. Several window panes have been broken, and the sheetiron extension to the chimneys of the office of the Ontario-Cucamonga Fruit Exchange have been blown down and the tin roof slightly damaged. A large pepper tree was prostrated across Second avenue, uprooting the cement sidewalk in its fail. Canvas awnings have been torn into shreds, and the tents of the Holiness revivalists are down. Considerable damage to fruit is anticipated. Carpenters, masons and all outdoor laborers were compelled to quit work early in the forenoon. valled today was the most severe that has been experienced in years. Neariy all day the wind blew a gale, and the air was full of sand and dust, making it uncomfortable for the persons who were obliged to be out of doors. There was little or no damage, however, and no reports have been received of damage to fruit orchards in this section. Only one train each way has passed through the city today. The first was the west-bound Southern Pacific train, due here at 7:33 a.m., and the other was the train from Los Angeles, due here at 9:20 a.m. This train is now stalled somewhere west of San Bernardino, and the railroad company is making an effort to run it back to Los Angeles. When it reached Pomona several passengers from Los Angeles, among them a number of attorneys who were en route to Chino to try a case, left the train and have been trying to get back to the city, but have not been able to do so.

Reports received here state that the railroad track between Declez and Cucamonga is burled under tons of sand. Roadmaster E. P. Mulvehill of the Southern Pacific has nearly 100 track men at work between those two stations, trying to remove the obstructions. The train from Redlands through this city to Los Angeles put back to Redlands.

The windstorm abated shortly before dark, and at 10 o'clock tonight there was little wind blowing, although the atmosphere was full of dust.

AT SAN DIEGO.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 27.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] The tail end of the sand storm struck this section this afternoon, the wind at one time reaching a velocity of twenty-four miles, coming from the east, southeast and northeast. It lasted from 1 o'clock to 5 in the afternoon. The weather observer says that it was caused by a mechanical heating of the air, and has no significance in the way of bringing rain.

Conductor Kinney of the Southern California reports that the trip down from Los Angeles was something fearful. At some points the engineer was not able to see more than two car lengths in front of the moving train.

The only damage was the further drying of fields and orchards that now need rain very badly. TAIL END OF THE STORM.

The crack bowling team of Los Angeles, consisting of Sam Dysinger, Harry Burke, Howard Burke, H. Brown and Fred Simpson, got caught in the sand storm at Riverside, where they made some phenomenal scores Wednesday and Thursday and were unable to return home gesterday, on account of the blockade of the Southern Pacific track by sand at Declez.

HAD GIVEN SAN DIEGO FEDERAL OFFICERS MUCH TROUBLE.

Tom Wing Chew, Recently Acquitted on One Charge, Fled Rather Than Take Chances on Another-Alleged Hotel Thief Held to Answer.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 27.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] Tom Wing Chew, alias See Chong, who has long given the local customs officers trouble by aiding Chinese to enter this country illegally from Mexico, has skipped out, and has not been seen for two days. His house is torn up, his haste in getting away having been very evident. The latest charge against Chong is forgery. Mah Park, just ordered deported, confessed to having bought his certificate from him, telling how its face was changed to suit the exigencies of the occasion. Chong was a few days ago acquitted by the Federal Court in Los Angeles of the charge of aiding and abetting Chinese to enof aiding and abetting Chinese to en-ter the country. He evidently feared that he could not again be cleared so easily. Conviction would mean five years, with deportation at the expira-tion of the term. The officers have no trace of his whereabouts.

tion of the term. The officers have no trace of his whereabouts.

SAN DIEGO BREVITIES.

The postoffice officials say that the Christmas business this year was fully twice as heavy as that of any recent year. They were unable to handle the business on Christmas and the three days previous. Uncle Sam provides San Diego with only eight foot carriers and four with rigs, that being the requisite number for the population, to but as the city is spread out over much space an overabundance of work is entailed on special occasions.

H. R. Hall and Bessie Hall were arraigned today on the charge of stealing jewelry from the trunk of a guest at the Coronado Hotel while it was in the Santa Fé depot here two weeks ago. Bessie Hall refused to answer questions in court, and they were given till next Monday to plead.

The sale of the assets of the Bank of National City, including real and personal property, has been made. The building was sold to Fred Copeland for $2000. The old postoffice building went to George J. Chambers for $1250. The balance of the property went to various people at small prices.

Josle Smith, the young colored woman charged with burglary from the Grand Hotel, was before Justice Anderson this morning in preliminary examination. She was held to answer in the Superior Court, and her bail fixed at $2000. She did not furnish bond, and was remanded to jail.

J. Price will build a new block on the corner of Sixth and H streets, in the early spring. The new building will adjoin that of his now standing, will have a 25-foot front, and will be three stories in height. The front will be built of pressed brick.

Incorporation papers have been filed for the La Jolla Tavern Company, its object being to acquire lands and build hotels and incidental structures at La Jolla. The capital stock is named at $20,000, and that actually subscribed is $15.750. SAN DIEGO BREVITIES.

The public library will be moved into the new Carnegie building by Feb-One Ship Canal That Pays its Way.

A German official publication on the development of traffic on the Kaiser Wilhelm Canal mentions that the canal dues paid by the United States steamship Enterprise amounted to 400 marks $35,20,) and those of the United States steamship Buffalo $214.20, which would indicate that it is less expensive for ships to go through the Kaiser Wilhelm Canal than to round the aDnish peninsula, taking into consideration the saving in time and coal.

The total traffic of the canal in 1900, exclusive of ships of the German navy. was 25,571 ships, with a net registered tonnage of 4,292,258. The through traffic for the five years—January 1, 1896, to December 1, 1900—has more than doubled (222,22 per cent.) as regards number of vessels, and almost trebled One Ship Canal That Pays its Way.

CUTLERY THAT CUTS...

(269.99 per cent.) as regards tonnage.

The canal has given repeated proofs of its capabilities in regard to the number of ships passing in one day. For example, on June 15, 1900, 118 vessels, with 20,648 net registered tonnage, passed the canal, and it has likewise stood the test as regards its navigability for very large vessels, such as the German cruiser Furst Bismarck and the Japanese cruiser Yakumo.

The average size of the vessels passing the canal has risen from year to year. It has been possible to maintain the traffic without any interruption from ice, even through the severe winter of 1896-97, when the sound and the belt were blocked by ice.—[New York Journal.

Chained to her rock upon the Middle Shore, Progress, for centuries, mourned th' unopened door. With laggard feet, her course did Commerce run From northern climes, 'neath equatorial sun, To where Cape Horn his mighty ban had cast And fain would hold her, with Death's magnet, fast. With struggling, spent, and marv'ling to escape, Commerce would thence a fairer journey shape: While Mother Nature, watching o'er her brood, Grieved that their needs she had not understood.

But now, behold a youthful race arise, Ardent as those who once did storm the skies! BILL FOR A DEPARTMENT OF diction of the Interior Department to the Department of Mines and Mining. The subsequent sections of the bill provide for an annual report to Congress; that the Secretary shall have charge of all records, property, etc., in the building occupied by the Department of Mines and Mining, further providing that the jurisdiction, supervision and management and control of mines and mining lands and mining industries now vested in the Interior Department shall be transferred and vested in the Department of alines and Mining. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Mines and Mining.

THE BUTTE MINE.

Another milling of seventy tons of ore from the Butte mine at Randsburg, Cal., was made last week, which yielded $5385. This property is well sustaining its reputation, and shows, moreover, that the ore is maintaining its high average value with depth. As stated in a report about it, there are three distinct ore chutes on it. That on the east end has been followed with good results to a depth of 375 feet, at which depth a level has been run sixty feet into the Philadelphia ground, recently purchased by the Butte company. The ore chute in the center of the property was found a few weeks ago by cross-cutting fifty feet into the hill. The ore in this chute has a width in places of five feet, with an average milling value of $50 a ton. The exact location of the west-end ore chute has not yet been located.

Missionary Peet in Communication With Brigands, and Thinks He Will Soon Secure Miss Stone's Release.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.1

SEARCHLIGHT DISTRICT.

Reports from Searchlight, Nev., are that the road the Quartette Mining Company is building from its mines to its mill on the Colorado River, is all graded and one mile of track laid. There has been some delay in track laying owing to the failure to get delivery of the rails, consequent upon the low water in the Colorado River. In any event, it is expected that the road will be completed and in operation by March 1 next. The company's mill is a twenty-stamp one, but is constructed to permit of twenty more stamps being added, space having been left between each battery to allow that being done.

GALES SWEEPING NEWFOUNDLAND, ST. JOHNS (N. F.) Dec. 27.—Furious gales swept the coast of Newfoundland last night, and wrought much destruction among the fishing and fishing properties at Day of Islands, N. F., where several American vessels were seeking cargoes of herring. At Placentia, on the west coast, the fishing boats suffered great damage, and the wharves and waterfront buildings were destroyed.

Been Surveyed—Report on the Giant Ledge—New Mexico—Mining Notes.

The mining men of this country have, at last, reason to congratulate themselves on the fact that a bill has been introduced into Congress for the establishment of a Department of Mines and Mining. More than any other section, perhaps, this southwestern region has cause for rejoicing over it, because there is none other that will be entered to the Bisson shaft on the Manhattan,) a compressor and machine drills, together with a pumping plant.

J. F. Dillon of Council Biuffs, Iowa, has, as stated in the Williams News, taken a sixty-day bond on all the mining claims of the Central Arisona Copper Company in the Grand Cañon region.

THE GIANT LEDGE.

In a report lately made by Theo. F.

the property of the Clifton Copper Company shows an immense body of good concentrating ore. Through this mass of ore small stringers, from three to twelve inches, of high-grade copper ore run. Upon the property is one of the most complete, up-to-date and modern mills in the Southwest. The ore is easily mined, and if the mill had the capacity, 300 tons of ore could easily be turned out every day. The plant is lighted throughout by electric light.

In an article on the Cooney district the Silver City Enterprise says: "The ores of the Cooney mining district may be divided into two distinct classes. First, the so-called free-milling gold and silver ores, and, second, the base copper ores carrying gold and silver. No lead or zinc has yet been found in the district. A small percentage of antimony is present in the base ores, since some tetradedrite occurs along with the chalcocite, bornite and chalcoporyte. The veins are large, with a silght pitch from the vertical, and may be classified as, first, contact fissures; second, true fissures (cutting through all formations without any general or decided fauiting) and, third, fault fissures or shearage zone veins. Gold ores occupy the contact and fault fissures, and copper ores the true fissures, In only one instance has the base ore been found in the free-milling veins. This occurred in the Maud S, between the 200 and 300-foot levels below tunnel (about five hundred feet below surface,) where a bunch of peacock copper, yielding about $100,000, was formed within the free-milling body. Below the 300 the ore assumed its regular character with hardly a trace of copper, yielding about $100,000, was formed within the free-milling body. Below the 300 the ore assumed its regular character with hardly a trace of copper, wheld has been exposed. Ten inches of this ore is a high-grade gold-copper ore, while the balance is a good milling proposition. The May Bell is situated in the very heart of the Placers, not far from the El Oro mine, in which recent disclosures have revealed exce

The Times is able to offer to patrons throughout Southern California a mail box manufactured by the Signal Mail Box Co., of Joliet, Ill. It is approved by the Government for rural mail service.

DESCRIPTION.

The box in size is 18x12x7, being large and commodious. It is made of galvanized iron, and subjected to an aluminum treatment, which insures it against rust. It is equipped with an automatic signal, and a regular Yale lock, with two keys for the house holder, and owner's name, stenciled, is furnished with CASS & SMURR STOVE CO., 314-316 South Spring Street.

The SUNDAY TIMES.

It is positively the only box offered for sale in Southern California, large enough to receive a copy of the Sunday Times without serious injury to the paper by being rolled and crushed. Particular attention is called to this advantage.

Boxes for rural service are to be had at prices ranging from seventy cents each to $3.50. After a careful inspection of the various makes, The Times selected the one made by the Signal Mail Box Co., as being the one combining the greatest number of advantages and much the cheapest one on the market when its merits are considered in connection with the cheaper boxes. The cheaper boxes invariably rust out after the heat of the bun has cracked the surface finish, and they are soon rendered useless, while the box offered here is proof against the weather. The Times offers the above described box for $2.50 to subscribers only, with the purchaser's name stenciled and bolted on in each case. For further particulars, address, Mayor Snyder yesterday signed the brick-yard ordinance.

The annual report of the Library Board, which was adopted yesterday afternoon, contains strong arguments for a new library building.
R. D. Trask, who shot his wife on the Fourth of July, pleaded guilty to assault with a deadly weapon yesterday, and was sentenced to six months in the County Jail. His son, Grant, is also in jail charged with stealing a bicycle.

Frank Moore, II, years old, was sent to the Whittier Reform School yesterday. Frank is an orphan, who has been caught burglarizing.

N EPIDEMIC OF SMALL FIRES DURING MONTH

the Management of the Department

Since Chief Stronm has been confined to his bed as the result of a fearful fall at a fire on Omar avenue two weeks ago, there has been some disposition to criticise the work of the fire department. As the Fire Commission declared the position of assistant chief of the department vacant when Charles Fusciehr was incapacitated by illness, the responsibility has fallen on Secretary Robert Burns, who usually serves as book-keeper and supply clerk.

In the opinion of the commissioners Burns has done very well when the circumstances are taken into consideration. He not only has the work of the Chief to perform, but is obliged to attend to his own duties as well. He must attend all fires, look after all the details of the department, keep the books and also report to the Fire Commission regarding the many applications for permits.

It is not known that Chief Strohm embodies in his person any magical fire preventive, but it is certain that for some reason there has been a perfect epidemic of fires since he was aken ill. Last week there were six-leen amail fires, which caused an no disagreeable odors from the style of refinery which he wishes to establish.

Residents of the vicinity are very suspicious of the refinery industry, and are loath to pin their faith to the assertions made regarding the odorless methods to be employed. Several property owners appeared as protestants yesterday, and stated their reasons, for opposing the refinery. One man stated that if the refinery is located in the Seventh Ward, other people will be as suspicious of the odorless methods as he is, and prospective buyers will invest their money elsewhere, just to be on the safe side. Vicrey moved that the permit be granted, anyway. He got no second. Webb moved that it be denied, and his motion finally carried.

J. G. Littelier and W. S. Boerstler were granted a boiler permit at their box factory near the corner of Palmetto and Mateo street, and the Union Oil Tool Company got a similar permit at the same location.

John V. Simons, who wishes to establish a brickyard on Boyle avenue, near Seventh street, was granted a boiler permit. A permit was granted J. A. McIntosh & Co. for a gasoline engine at No. 1899 South Main street. Burt & Behrens were granted permission to operate a laundry at No. 3201 South Main street.

The pay roll, amounting to $7970, was approved.

LIBRARY REPORT.

IMPORTANT RECOMMENDATIONS. At a meeting of the board of directors of the Public Library late yesterday afternoon, the annual report to the Council was submitted by Isidore B. Dockweller and adopted. The report covers the year ending November 30, 1901, and contains much detailed statistical information. Attached to the directors report is a detailed statement of Miss Mary L. Jones, the librarian, showing the operations of the library for the year, and containing the data required by the city charter.

for the year, and containing the data required by the city charter.

The present board of directors went into office under appointment of Mayor Snyder last April. For the current fiscal year the Council allotted to the library, as its proportion of the $1 tax rate on each $100 of assessed valuation, 4.5 cents, thereby giving the library an estimated sum of $31,654.79, or about $1500 mpre than was allowed for library purposes the preceding year. After saying that this liberality on the part of the Council was a wise move, the report says:

phase of the fighting, and while there have been many fires, none of them there have been many fires, none of them the provision of the council was a wise move, the offer of a populating an assistant chief and the council was a wise move, the offer of the populating an assistant chief and the council was a wise move, the members of the board organic themselves as satisfied with the president articles. If the epidemic of fires local circle.

plying for positions in the department must be between 21 and 25 years of age. The duties of each officer are set forth in detail, and rules for the covernment of the engine-hauses are provided. No racing either to or from free will be permitted. Stringent regulations for the care of the horses are provided, and every possible safeguard for the comfort and health of the anianals is detailed in the rules. The unnecessary use of the whip on the horses is made a cause of dismissal.

No member of the department except in the performance of duty is allowed a gambling in the houses is strictly forbiden.

Members of the department are required to be courteous on all occasions, to show visitors through the houses is strictly forbiden.

Members of the department are required to be courteous on all occasions, to show visitors through the houses in an use profane or obscene language, and in all ways to deport themselves in such manner as to lend dignity to the public service.

In addition to the foregoing complete rules for the management of fires, the maintenance of fire lines, the conduct of the company-houses, taking of meals, leaves of absence, official courtesy and uniformity of dress, are included in the set of regulations which cover twenty-four type-written pages in the form in which there were provided.

PERMIT AGAIN DENIED.

Again yesterday the Imperial Refining and Asphalt Company appeared before the board in an endeavor to secure a bolier permit at its location on the corner of Wilson and Shearer streets, in the Seventh Ward. Attorney A. M. Cates reiterated his arguments in favor of the refinery, and assured the board that there will be no disagreeable doors from the style of refinery which he wishes to establish.

and many others will suffer greatly the loss or suppression of the reading-room.

"But what can this board do? More space is absolutely required. Books must be bought from year to year to keep the library abreast of the times; more books must be purchased to bring the library down to these times. The city is growing in population at a wonderful Aute. In 1880 we had 11,311 inhabitants; in 1890, 50,000; in 1900, 101,000, and now we count our population at a proximately 120,000. Needless to say, our library patrons increase proportionately. They must be taken care of. The needs of the public must be attended to. For after the public-school system, the library ranks next in importance in the community. The imperious call for additional space cannot be satisfied, as far as the City Hall is concerned. Possible temporary makeshifts may abate for a few months, or a year at best, the present imperative necessity, but occasion patchwork relief, will serve only to whet the library-building appetite, which 'Phoenix-like' must soon arise to add an additional feature to our mupicipal financial puzzle.

"We all know that the long-talked of and much-needed library building can only be made possible by the generous prompting of private donation.

"As to the latter source, our efforts have so far been unavailing. but as it

"As to the latter source, our efforts have so far been unavailing, but as it is said 'hope springs eternal in the human breast' we have cherished the expectation that Andrew Carnegie, the distinguished philanthropist, or some other equality-munincent donor, would remember our necessities. But in the absence of a definite promise, we must look to other means.

"As to the first-mentioned source, we find that our present city charter provides that its bonded indebtedness must not exceed, in the aggregate, $2,000,000, except for the purpose of providing waterworks for the city and establishing and constructing a sewer system.

"From the latest obtainable reports, we find that the total sum of the city's bonded indebtedness (exclusive of waterworks and sewer bonds) amounted on November 20 1901 to $76,125. "As to the latter source, our efforts we find that the total sum of the city's bonded indebtedness (exclusive of waterworks and sewer bonds) amounted on November 30, 1901, to $976,125.

"The city can, therefore, vote additional bonds to the extent of $1,000,000 and over. Now is the .tme, when in our opinion, the needs of the library may be properly left to a yote of the people. A library building and its equipment commensurate with the importance of our city and the demands of the library, will cost not less than $350,000, exclusive of the site. As the question of voting sewer and school bonds is now also being agitated, we ask your honorable body, when placing other bonding propositions before the people, to submit at the same time the matter of voting the issuance of bonds in the sum of $350,000 for the construction and equipment of a library building."

In conclusion, the board thanks the library force for its assiduous and uniform attention to duty, and acknowledges a debt of gratitude to the Council for consideration of library needs.

LIBRARY NOTES.

Application was made to the Library Board yesterday for a readingroom at the corner of Central and Vernon avenues. Money has been raised in the neighborhood to pay for rent and lights, and the board is asked to furnish an attendant and the necessary books. The communication was referred to the Committee on Attendants.

The salary of the second assistant librarian, Miss Nora Miller, was ad-

Board of Public Works.

Very little business was transacted by the Board of Public Works yesterday afternoon. Three of four-street petitions were passed on and arguments concerning the establishment of oil tanks on Mateo street were entertained. Charles Von der Kuhlen and other residents of the Seventh Ward stated that great injustice will be done the property owners in that section if the tanks are built. The board took the matter under advisement. The board has not yet reached any agreement relative to the application of the Los Angeles-Pacific and the Los Angeles Traction Companies for electric franchises over portions of Hilf and Sixteenth streets.

Ordinances Signed.

Mayor Snyler yesterday signed the ordinance declaring the unrestricted maintenance of brick yards to be a nuisance. Owners of brick yards now in existence will be compelled to get a permit from the Council-before the first Monday in February and hereafter a permit must be secured before a brick yard can be established. The Mayor also signed the ordinance prohibiting the sarrying of advertising signs about the street.

Want Money Back.

Both the Los Angeles Railway and the Los Angeles Traction Companies have presented to the Finance Committee of the Council a demand for $100 for money posted to pay the cost of advertising a franchise that they failed to secure. When the franchise on West Jefferson street was offered for sale at the request of the Los Angeles Railway Company, that company put up $100 for advertising. The Los Angeles Traction Company got the franchise. When the Traction Company asked that the belt line be advertised, $100 was posted by that company and the Los Angeles Rail-

The worst happened on the morning of the Fourth of July. The Trask family had long been planning for a gala little picnic that day, and the father had gone to considerable trouble to get a leave of absence. He was also aware that Mrs. Trask was intimate with a barber named Cardori, who, she warned her husband, was apt to kill him at any time. Nevertheless, she persisted in keeping Cardori's company. To protect himself on the Fourth, Trask borrowed a revolver.

Early that morning, Trask says, he was awakened by a little daughter, who informed him that they would have to give up the picnic because her mamma was going to Catalina instead. He immediately went to Mrs. Trask's room, where he found her dressing deliberately in the little fineries that one would not wear on a picnic, where upon he asked for an explanation. Her answer was to the effect that she was going to take her.

In a moment Trask was seized with a frenzy of jealousy, and in the awful heat of his madness he began shooting at the exasperating woman, and when it was all over he found himself standing in the front yard holding a smoking revolver with three empty chambers. Mrs. Trask had been wounded in the neck and for a time it was thought she might die, but now she is entirely recovered: Trask made no effort to excepe.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR J. M. GRIFFITH.

PROCESSION OF FRIENDS CALLS ON

The tedium of life for a convalescent was relieved for John M. Griffith yesterday on the occasion of his seventy-second birthday, by a visit from a score of his old-time friends.

Nearly five months ago, August 9, Mr. Griffith fell from the platform of the Santa Fé depot at San Bernardino and fractured his thigh joint. The night was dark and the platform unprotected by a rail. For more than three months the victim of this hard mischance lay at the California Hospital. About November 1 he was removed to his apartments in the Potomac building, and since then he has been able to take the air in a wheel chair, (5.) In "The Passover" (Ex. xii, 1-17) we see the people responding to the instructions of Moses and preparing to leave. They are, first, to be rescued from the plague, and then to be started on their journey. They would not be rescued simply because they were Jews, but because they world god's instructions, and they would show that they accepted His deliverance by using the Pascal lamb. That use of the lamb showed sense of sin, for it was a sacrifice for their sins, since they were sinners as the Egyptians were, though not in the same degree, and it showed their faith in God. Using the lamb was an act of obedience that showed their faith in God. Using the lamb was an act of obedience that showed their faith in God. Using the lamb was an act of obedience that showed the spirit of obedience. The lamb did not secure them protection, but was an evidence of the condition God wanted to see. It also was to be observed alloways, as a memorial of the deliverance wrought for them, and as a symbol of what thou livest, live well.

evidence of the condition God wanted to see. It also was to be observed all ways, as a memorial of the deliverance wrought for them, and as a symbol of Christ. The lamb must be at its mature age, and flawless—so was Christ. It was only a sign, while Christ was that which was signified; it could make only a pictorial atonement. While the whole congregation killed the lamb, the family and the individuals in that family, much choose and use it, or its value was lost. Christ was slain for the sink of the world, yet no one can be saved unless His blood is vitally applied. The lamb itself was to be eaten, to give them strength for their journey. Christ not only propose to save with His precious blood, but to sustain with His precious self, the hidden manna from heaven.

(6.) "The Passage of the Red Sea" (Ex. xiv, 13-57) completes the deliverance from Egyptian bondage, and throws them on their own responsibility. In this exit, God led them, as to the route chosen, and in escaping from their enemies. No other doom would have been adequate for Pharsoh, Natural forces lent themselves to God's purpose, and were used with supernatural wisdom and skill and power in the interest of his people. The nation is now fairly started toward its permanent home, but without laws or culture or experience, or true self-confidence. However, they are fortunate in having such leaders as Moses and Aaron.

There were more than a hundred darling little girls at Ebell Hall yesterday afternoon, and no aggregation of California flowers could be more beautiful than were they.

Many of them were made up to represent the blossoms which are Southarn California's special delight.

The violet, poppy and rose were the flavorites, the effects being produced in crepe paper. Others represented seasons and characters in fiction: a great number were just handsomely-dressed little ladies and gentlemen, in silk and face.

There was a sprinkling of boys, like the strawberries in the punch—just whould not be considered in the punch—just whould not so socially, the fond nammas of the club, once each year, ring their little lones out on dress pande, at the clubhouse, and invite some of their little feineds, as well. Annual Meeting of the State Association to Begin Monday Next at Pacific Grove.

The thirty-fifth annual session of the California Teachers' Association will meet at Pacific Grove on December 30 and continue until Friday evening, January 3. The managers have provided an elab-

The managers have provided an elaborate programme of evening entertainments, and the usual section work will be pursued each day. The same railroad arrangements are in force as at the recent meeting of the Southern California Association, and tickets may now be bought to Pacific Grove at regular rates. Upon payment of $1 as membership fee in the association, a receipt will be signed entitling the holder to return at one-third rate.

THE FAMOUS "N.E.A."

The Executive Committee of National Educational Association ha just made the official announcement of the choice of Minneapolis, Minn as the meeting place for the forty first annual convention of the associa-tion, to be held from July 7 to 11, 1902. The local authorities at Minneapoli-have chosen Wallace G. Nye of the Commercial Club of that city as chair-man of the local Convention Comnittee, and every arrangement is be ing made for the accommodation be held, and the West Hotel will be association headquarters.

The railway lines of the Western Passenger Association have granted the usual rate of one fare for the round trip, plus the memberahip fee, with provisions for extension of tick-tes-for return to September 1, and all other lines are expected to do the same. Favorable excursion rates will obe given to the Great Lakes, the interesting points in Minnesota, to the Yellowstone Park and Pacific Coast. The total enrollment at the last convention, held in Detroit, was 10,150, and an even larger attendance is being prepared for in Minneapolis.

The department of superintendence of the National Education Association will hold its annual meeting in Chicago, February 25, 26 and 27, 1902. The seessions will be held in University Hall.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Religious circles in this city are interested in the announcement by the Rev. Dr. Charles M. Herald, pastor of the Bethesda Congregational Church, Brooklyn, who was recently attacked with blindness while in the pulpit, that he had recovered. Dr. Herald appeared at the council of Congregational ministers at the Immanuel Congregational Church, called to sanction the resignation of the Rev. Dr. E. P. Ingersol, who has accepted the position of secretary of the American Bible Society.

In speaking of his recovery, Dr. Herald declared that God had restored his sight. He said: "When the surgeon performed the operation he said there was no hope of my eyes recovering their sight. I then fought the battle, the most stubborn and most trying battle I have ever known in my thirteen years' experience as a preacher of the gospel. The enemy of my soul then appeared and jeered at me, saying, 'Now, do you believe that the grace of God is all-surviving, as you have preached to your congregation for twelve years' How will He help you?' God heard my prayers and did what man could not do. He restored my sight."

for the reorganization of the Eric Telegraph and Telephone Company

Telegraph and Telephone Company are made public in a circular to the shareholders of the Eris company issued today. Kidder, Peabody & Co. will carry out the plan, if it is accepted by the shareholders.

The reorganization plan, which the Erie directors recommend, involves the formation of a new company, with $16,000,000 in preferred stock, to be 6 per cent. cumulative after two years from issue, and $18,000,000 common stock, par value of each $100. This stock will be subject only to an indebtedness of $10,000,000 gold bonds.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Dec. 27. Mar-tin Gleason, aged 50 years, su-perintendent of the Wild Horse and perintendent of the Wild Horse and Deadwood mines, was found dead to-day at the bottom of the Kalamazoo shaft, 500 feet below the surface of the ground. The body was horrisly mangled. The ground around the mouth of the shaft bore marks of a struggle, and it is evident that Gleason was murdered, although no motive for the crime is known. The mining-company has offered $5000 reward for the capture of the murderer.

EXCITING FIRE.

POMONA. Dec. 27.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] During the severe windstorm this afternoon fire was discovered in a pile of boxes and other inflammable material in the rear of Mrs. Morrison's picture store on Thomas street. Sparks from a rubbish fire near by had been carried by the wind, and for a time the blaze looked serious. Mrs. Morrison believed that her little son was imprisoned in one of the boxes, and became hysterical. This added greatly to the excitement, and a score of men began a search for the boy, who was later found playing on another street. The blaze was extinguished with a chemical engine. EXCITING FIRE.

Christmas Tree yesterday. It was a little late for a Christmas tree, but this one was worth waiting for.

The occasion was the annual "Christmas lark" of the club, when the members lay aside somewhat of the austere dignity that ordinarily surrounds the proceedings of the body and give themselves up to mirth and joility.

Mrs. Shelley Tolhurst, president of the club, occupied the cnair, as usual, and had general charge of the entertainment. But two other figures were stationed at opposite ends of the platform, and by turns, during the morning, became the center of proceedings. These were Mrs. Ella H. Enderlein, representing Columbia, and Mrs. Brown as Dame Santa Claus, the wife of the popular nursery demigod. Both were in appropriate coatumes. Between the two stood the club tree, prettily decorated with the usual tinsel and ornaments.

When the club had been called to order, the programme opened with a procession of the States of the Union, followed by several European countries, who filed up the middle isle of the auditorium, saluted at the platform, and made the tour of the room. Many of the States and countries were dressed, in some measure, in costume, and each bore a banner indicating the State or country which she represented, The California and the Michigan banners, borne by Mrs. F. W. Wood and Mrs. A. E. Rase, respectively, were emblasoned each with the State coat of arms. The Kentucky banner, carried by Mrs. Scott Helm. showed pretty women, prancing horses, and, larger than either, occupying the center of the banner, occupying the center of the banner of the state flag, surmounted by the figure of a steer, and its bearer was Mrs. J. M. Elliott. The lowa banner, which was carried by Miss Jennie Collier, showed a large and well-fed rooster. All the States, with one or two exceptions, were represented by club members native to them, and there being bers native to them, and there being bers native to them, and there being

George Mitchell, the copper king of Cananea, is in the city spending the bolidays with his family. He reports the mines of the Greene Consolidated Copper Company, of which he is one of the chief proprietors and managers, in a very satisfactory condition. Shortly before starting for Los Angeles, he says, a very important new strike was made at Cananea, comprising a fifty-foot vein of sulphide ore, running 40 per cent, pure copper, which is being shipped without smelting.

Aubrey Robinson, one of the large sugar Planters of the Hawaiian Islands, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday with his family. His plantation, comprising 10,000 acres, is under irrigation, and water is as necessary there as in Southern California. Mr. Robinson stated yesterday if a new scheme to increase the water supply for the sugar growers was successfully carried out, it would increase the yield of his plantation alone from 16,000 tons a year to 20,000 tons. The principal labor employed on the plantation is Japanese, Mr. Robinson states.

Big Battleship Slides Down the Ways.

Notable Speech Made by Secretary Long.

Answers the Opponents of an Increase of Strength of the Navy.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.1 out a hitch, and none prettier or more successful was ever accomplished here. Miss Marion Cockrell, daughter of Senator F. M. Cockrell, daughter of Senator F. M. Cockrell of Missouri, was sponsor for the ship, and she performed the duty assigned her with the traditional bottle of champagne, using a bottle of Missouri product for the purpose. The number of distinguished guests gathered around the sponsor on the christening platform was larger than ever seen here.

Among them were Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock. Rear-Admiral Melville, Rear-Admiral Melville, Rear-Admiral Melville, Souri, Gov. Tyler of Virginia, Corwin Spencer of St. Louis, Congressman Rixey, Senator Cockrell, and a number of army and navy officers. Mrs. Roosevelt, wife of the President, came up from Old Point on the United States dispatch-boat Dolphin, and viewed the launching from the steamer's deck.

of distributing the proceeds of taxation, yet it is some comfort to know of a tax which, when it is laid on the community, all returns again to it. If $100,000,000 should be appropriated for the navy by the present Congress, a small part will go for the purchase of raw material and something for salaries, but the great bulk of it for labor in every part of the Union.

"Somehow it just now happens that with larger revenues than we have ever had before in time of peace and therefore with more direct and indirect taxation, there is more prosperity and more money in the pocket of the citizen than ever before. Students may speculate over the economic causes, but this is the 'demnition total.

"Undoubtedly Uncle Sam ought to may speculate over the economic causes, but this is the 'demnition to-tal.'

"Undoubtedly Uncle Sam ought to reduce taxation wherever he can. On the other hand it is shrewd and wise in him to run things' so as to keep business going, and if as a result his ircome is large he confers much more benefit by spending it than he would by hiding it. Whenever the interests of the country require he should reduce his receipts, but as they are now excessive, the great question seems to be how he shall get the proceeds back among the people. But if this year, having a surplus, he spends $100,000,000 for the navy, let us remember that while it is spent under that name, it is really spent, as I said before, in the employment of the people's labor, and in the purchase of the material they have to sell, and the people get rather more out of it than the navy does, for they get it all back again.

"Nor is it true, as suggested in the circular, that a great navy necessarily inflames the fighting spirit and leads to war. If my recollection serves me right, while Great Britain has had troubles in Egypt and Africa and elsewhere she has had no conflict on sea for many years, and yet her navy has been twice as large as that of any other power. The recent increase in our navy did not induce the war with Spain, which seems to have been inevitable. On the other hand, it is more likely that if in the beginning of 1858 we had even as large a navy as we have now, certainly as large a one as now proposed, there would have been no war with Spain, and that country would have come to terms, as she was very near coming, without battle. At that time, however, it was the general impression among foreign powers, and probably in Spain, that her navy would blow us out of the water.

"All the foregoing deals with questions of expediency, which are the only her navy would blow us out of the water.

"All the foregoing deals with questions of expediency, which are the only questions raised in the circular. But this is a question of principle, and that question, strangely enough, the circular does not touch. The signers, it seems to me, instead of raising the question of how big the navy should be, should have raised the question of whether there shall be any navy at all. This I do not propose to argue, as until the world moves much farther toward the miliennium, it is hardly worth while to argue it.

"In determining the question what shall be the size of our navy, there are a great many things to be considered, some of which I have referred to. For instance, our world relations have expanded vastly in the last three years in territorial extent, and vastly more in international extent. It has not been an expansion upon the continent, but upon the ocean itself, and the islands of the sea in both hemispheres. Our commerce has greatly increased in volume and area, and our American marine is likely to follow suit. As on land, so on ocean, as you extend your commerce, so you must expand your police force. If there is to be a navy at all it should be commengue with all these extended relations and demands. We are the richest nation of the world, with a larger income than any other. If then the size of our navy should correspond to our national and international size, and we have the cash on hand, it would seem the simplest good business sense, the simplest good business care of our own interests to increase our navy, and whether this shall cost $20,000,000 or $75,000,000, or $100,000,000, it is not an extravagance to cut our garments according to our cloth, especially as last year there was no appropriation for such an increase. It is like the rich man grading his expenditures to his income and thus making it serve the general welfare as well as his own. It is like having policemen

COMES TO SEE US.

SAYS LOS ANGELES WEATHER IS LIKE CAPE COLONY'S.

Town. South Africa, arrived yesterday at a downtown hotel in this city. He has spent his fife in Cape Colony, and is conversant with the existing conditions in South Africa. He believes that the Transvaal and Orange Free State will soon pass into the hands of the English, and that, the present war will, in the end, prove the greafest step ever taken in the evolution of South Africa.

"The Boers are not progressive," said he yesterday; "they are content with a livelihood and no more, and will never give the country a chance. There has been much talk of the English mistreatment of prisoners, and, while there have been a few cases of this kind on our side, they have been general on the part of the Boers. They have shot English prisoners in cold blood, but have been especially atrocious toward the Kaffirs, against whose fidelity to the Boer cause their suspicions have been aroused. Even in time of peace they mistreat them: a Kaffir, they believe, has no soul, and he is batted about accordingly. Kaffirs do not dare walk on the sidewalk in a Boer city; if they get in the way they are given a thrashing; they have no rights in the eye of the law."

Of the threatened invasion of Cape Town some time ago by the Boers, Wolfe said: "They did not get nearer than 300 miles of the city, but turned back of their own accord. If they had persevered and some down in large numbers at that juncture and attacked Durban on one side and Cape Town on the other, they could easily have taken possession of the Cape country. There were only a handful of English troops to defend these places. In Cape Town it is hard to tell who is a Boer sympathizer and who is in sympathy with the English. The population contains about six of one and half a dozen of the other.

"Gen. Kitchener is coming into great favor among the English people, as is generally published, but among the masses he is regarded as a competent solder, and a martyr at the hands of the government.

"The climate of Cape Colony is strikingly like the climate here, execut that we have

CHARGED WITH BURGLARY.

Complaints Filed Against a "Professor" of Mind-reading and Three Alleged Burglarious Companions.

Burglary complaints have been filed by Detective Talamantes against George Adams, G. LeGrand, C. J. Howard and "Prof." W. Evellyn Llewellyne, mind-reader and palmist, Liewellyne, mind-reader and palmist, who, it is said, are responsible for much of the petty thievery that has been committed lately among lodging-houses in the city. One crime in which the gang is said to be implicated is the theft of a letter containing a money order from the fiallway at No. 521 South Olive street. An attempt to cash this postal order, which was for $3.92, gave the officers the first clew to the thieves, and their agreest followed. The men had been living at a lodging-house on South Main street, and were preparing to leave there when captured.

Christmas between the so-called Ali-Southern-California team and Berkeley, when the latter won without an effort by the score of 38 to 0, yesterday's con-test was the real thing. The Berkeley test was the real thing. The Berkeley boys were impressed with the idea that they had a walk-over, and after the Judians showed the stuff that was in them, it is simply stating facts to say that Berkeley resorted to disgraceful slugging, tactics that were offensive alike both to their friends and the champions of the Indians. NEW RAIL LINE OPENED.

First Trip Over Traction Road From University to Gardena.

The superintendent's car made a trial trip yesterday over the Traction Company's new electric line from University to Gardena, a distance of ten miles. The road was found to be steady and the trolley worked like a charm. The "bloody crossing" of the Southern Pacific at University was crossed without incident, the Espee people evidently having become reconciled to the idea. The new line will be open to the public January 1.

THE NEW GALVESTON.

THE NEW GALVESTON.

On September 2, 1900, the city of Galveston, Tex., was swept by a storm of unprecedented violence. It was the greatest calamity of the nineteenth century. Over eight thousand persons lost their lives in the great storm, and property was destroyed to the value of more than $30,000,000.

The population of Galveston, as shown by the census of 1900, taken in June of that year, was 27,789. Thus, more than one-fifth of the total population of the city was wiped out by the terrible hurricane and flood of September, not to mention the overwhelming property loss.

To most cities of that size, outside of the United States, such a calamity would have been regarded as almost beyond repair. At the best, many years would have been deemed recessary to make good the property losses. But the people of Galveston—those who survived the fearful visitation—were possessed of true American spirit and enterprise. Instead of sitting down to bewall their cruel fate, they at once, with brave and unfaliering hearts, set about the colossel task of $5,500,000 has been expended in repairing the damage wrought by wind and fleed. Immense business blacks here been erected, as have great storehouses, large grain elevators, finchurches, palatial residences, handsome theaters and other public buildings. The News asserts that Galveston today a much finer and more im-

More significant still, if possible, are the statistics of business. The export trade of Galveston during the past year has exceeded $100,000,000, being $16,000,000 greater than that for any year preceding the disaster. These facts would hardly be believable if they were not vouched for by so good an authority as the Galveston News. The rearing of the new city from the ruins of the old is a splendid exemplification of the spirit of American enterprise and courage, which knows no such word as failure.

"Few foreigners have any idea how extremely rigid and severe the rules of Indian caste are. Nothing, for example, would induce the poorest Hindu to eat roast beef with the Empress of India herself. He would believe that by partaking of it he would defile himself for time and eternity. It is said that a European, from motives of revenge, once seized and bound a wealthy Brahmin, and after a desperate struggle, forced some beef and brandy down his throat. As a result, although the Hindu had been clearly overpowered and made incapable of resisting, he was considered to be defiled and lost caste. Every effort was made to reinstate him, but for years in vain. Finally, after a payment of $100,000, the unfortunate man regained caste, although in addition to the fortune thus expended, he was obliged to submit to physical penalities too revolting to be mentioned. Lying, stealing fraud and many crimes can be atoned for in India without loss of caste, but to eat of the 'sacred cow' is the unpardonable sin. Imagine, therefore, what would be the feelings of a Hindu who visited the stock yards of Chicago and saw an ox or a cow, to say nothing of other animals, siaughtered every minute! Nor will a high-caste person allow one of lower caste to obtain water from his well. He thinks that thus the well would be defiled. If he saw a Pariah dying he would not go to his relief for fear of being contaminated are terrible. A man who has lost caste is the most wretched of beings. Even a Pariah is less pitiable. His property is confiscated to the caste from which he has been ostractsed; his children no longer acknowledge him as, their father; his wife is freed from ell her conjugal obligations, and even his father and mother would refuse to eat with him or to give him a morsel of food. Though the offense should have been accidental the penalty is the same. Can we wonder, then, that the spirit of the people has been broken?"

To the occidental mind it seems incredible that any people having a modicum of intelligence could entertain beliefs so utterly ridiculous. "We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of hap-piness." The inhabitant of India can no more understand the sublime truths contained in these immortal words than an uneducated child can understand an uneducated child can understand Sanscrit. To the Chinese, also, who are and have been for centuries steeped in incomprehensible supersti-tion, our Declaration of Independence is a jargon of unmeaning words and see in the present strained relations between Germany and Venezuela a menace of war between the United States and Germany, through the im-plied protection which the so-called Monroe doctrine extends to the Cen-tral and South American republics. There is, so far as present appear-ances go, no ground whatever for any apprehension on this score. The Mon-roe doctrine merely guarantees to the Central and Southern Americas in-tegrity of territory as against possible would probably have been sent to enforce payment, and it might even have been necessary to occupy a Turkish port and seize the customs in order to satisfy the claim. Yet, it is needless to say, in such a proceeding we should have had neither intention nor desire to acquire permanent possession of Turkish territory.

In acts contrary to the law and the comity of nations.

The Monroe doctrine was never designed to serve as a shield or an excuse for any of these southern republics to evade the payment of their just debts or the discharge of any of their legitimate obligations as autonomous powers. If, as it appears, Venezuels owes a debt to Germany, or to Germans, which fibe refuses to pay. suela owes a debt to Germany, or to Germans, which she refuses to pay, Germany has an undoubted right to collect such debt in the usual way, and in proceeding to do so no violence is done to the spirit or the specific requirements of the Monroe doctrine, provided there is no attempt nor purpose on the part of Germany to acquire Venezuelan territory permanently.

The case is similar as between Germany and Veneguela. The United States is in duty and in honor bound to maintain strict neutrality, so long as there is no occasion to mistrust the German assurances of good faith. Fortunately, there is little or no probability that such a contingency will arise. The friendly relations which have always existed between the have always existed between the United States and Germany are not likely to be disturbed by the warlike relations at present existing between the latter government and Venezuela.

fine bunch that will sell above 4 cents. Simon Maier had dressed steers for the Christmas market that weighed as much as 1400 pounds each.

The best live beef is now coming from the Kern River country, about Bakersfield, where the rich alfalfa meadows bloom. Arizona is also sending good beef.

Los Angeles is quite a central point for these Arizona steers, as many as seventy-five carloads being handled here in a day. Most of these are going through to San Francisco.

Mexican steers are not much sought after. They are of the old Spanish stock, clean limbed, long horned and handsome, but slow to take on fiesh. They are no good the first year they are brought in and only after two years of plentiful feeding do they come to much.

There is not much change in hogs or mutton, which are as they have been rather scarce and dear in price. Most of the hog products used here come from Kansas City and Omaha.

Spring lambs are scarce in Los Angeles, just now. If there were a good rain soon there would be fine spring lamb in a month, but with dry weather for a month longer there will be little of it from the local pastures this year.

Co.'s Review of Dece table of price changes

December 18. The highest price was August 21 to September 18, of the current year, when the figure was $3.75. The lowest price was at the opening. The high figures represent the benefit resped by the mill owners in the great strike last summer, in which the strikers lost millions.

Tin plate was $4.80 January 3, 1900; $4.19 January 2, 1901, and $4.19 December 18. The highest price was $7 August 29, 1901, another benefit reaped from the strike. The lowest price is the closing one, which is about the general one.

Glass sold at $2.39 January 2, 1900; $2.56; January 3, 1901, and $2.37 December 18. The highest was June 12 to November 20, 1901, when the price ran without change at $3.56. The price then went to $3.37, and remains so.

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

A SWEET SUBJECT. Sugar imports into the United States in the calendar year 1901 will exceed those of any preceding year by about 250,000,000 pounds, and the coat will be greater than any preceding year except 1833, when prices were anusually high. The total importations of sugar in the year about to end will, according to the Treasury Bureau of Statistics, aggregatout of any preceding year person of the community, those of 1895, 189 ter realized when it is stated that accepting the average carload at 60,000 pounds the sugar importations of 1901 would be sufficient to load 78,000 cars. In addition to this enormouns figure of 4,670,000 pounds imported, the sugar production in the United States for the year is presumably about 600,000,000 pounds, this having been about the annual average during recent years.

Of this four and a half billion pounds of sugar imported into the United States in 1901, more than four billions, or fully 85 per cent, is calle sugar chiefly beet sugar, mostly from Germany and Austria-Hungary. In the ten months ended with October the importations of beet sugar amounted to 550,000,000 pounds, out of a total importation of more than four billion pounds of cane sugar imported during the year, about 30 per cent. comes from Cuba, about 15 per cent, from the East Indies, and the remainder chiefly from the West Indies and Central and South American countries.

The following table shows the total sugar importations, quantity and value, by calendar years from 1891 to 1901, November and December of 1901 being estimated:

CITRUS-FRUIT SHIPMENTS, The were shipped from Southern California Friday, thirty-nine carloads of oranges and two of lemons. The total ship-ments for the season, November 1, 1901, to date, are 244 carloads, of which 280 are lemons.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS.

The week closes with a firm to strong tone all through the produce lists. The weather is one of the dominant influences in many lines.

Potatoes are steady at previous quotations, and so are onlons. For sweet potatoes the general market is $1.25 per 100 pounds.

Cabbage, celery and cauliflower are the weak spots in the list of vegetables. In the field growers get 25 to 30 cents per 100 pounds for cabbage. The East is well supplied for the next few weeks with home-grown stocks. Shippers pay 12 cents per dozen bunches for celery and about 20 cents for cauliflower per dozen heads.

Eastern markets have been poor on oranges, especially poor stock, and that effects even the best. The wind has done a good deal of damage in the last few days. Shipments for the months of November and December will run nearly the same as last year, about 2400 carloads of lemons and oranges, 300 carloads lemons. If the total crop November 1 was 20 to 30 per cent, short of last year on oranges, bringing it down to 17,000 or 18,000 carloads of oranges, and 2000 are moved out, leaving only 15,000 carloads, from which the loss by the big wind is to be deducted, surely the rest of the crop ought to bring large prices.

Apples and bananas are active at steady prices.

Apples and bananas are active at steady prices.

Hay is very firm and likely to advance unless a big rain falls in the next ten days. Should the rain come, the tone is likely to weaken.

Barley fully sympathizes with hay.
Butter is firm at full prizes. Northern creamery would cost close to 55 cents to lay down-here.

Eggs are firm for local ranch, which are scarce. New Year's Day will create a good demand for fresh eggs, and with the prevailing cold prices are likely to rule firm. Cold-storage stock is firmly held.

Picnic hams are easier for Rex brand. Pure lard of all brands is advanced ¼ to % of a cent. Rex mild-cured bacon is off 1 cent.

Live ponitry is in moderately ample supply, and the demand is only modervanced % to % of a cent. Lex muccured bacon is off 1 cent.

Live poultry is in moderately ample supply, and the demand is only moderately good. The fowls on hand are mostly from Kanass. Dressed poultry from the East is active at steady prices.

Honey is quiet. It is explained that the San Joaquin Valley this year has produced 150 carloads dark honey, and that the tobacco manufacturers have taken this at about 3 to 3% cents per pound. This tells the story of another slack demand for fancy honey at above 4 to 4% cents.

Live stock is firm for all kinds.
Continued drouth will curtail the crop of spring lambs.

Dressed beef is advanced % of a cent.

Coreals are unchanged, beyond the

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY. BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.1 NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Today's broad and active stock market resulted in NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—10days broads and active stock, market resulted in small changes in prices of stocks, owing to the very large amount of profit-taking sales which were made. The market was an excellent one for realiging profits, which are of tempting proportions, as a result of the conciderable rise in prices the last few days. There was a vigorous and well distributed demand which absorbed the offerings without serious inroads upon prices. The continued recovery in sugar, in which the dealings were again large, sustained the market. The unexpectedly strong bank statement made the closing strong after the realizing had commenced to make some impression upon prices. Amalgamated Copper falled to hold its gain and closed only % higher after having been at one time 1% higher. Sugar saved a net gain of 2% from an extreme advance of 3%. In the railroad list, Reading was the feature, on a continuance of the recent buying attributed to banking interests. The stock closed 1% higher. Baltimore and Ohio and Missouri Pacific were notably strong. Generally the realizing in railroad stocks kept the gains within moderate limits.

The compilation of returns of earnings for thirty-seven railroads for the third week in December shows a decrease of 2.48 per cent. compared with last year. This is the first time a decrease has been shown for the corresponding period since 1896.

The large gain in cash by the banks is attributed to returns from the local channels of the holiday trade. The notable increase in loans was considered favorable in view of the activity in the stock market.

Sugar has assumed the dominant position in the market lately held by Amalgamated Copper, and its violent recovery was an effective factor in railying the market.

The suggestion that railroad earning reports contain contradictions which have led to suspicions that conditions have been in manipulation for the purpose of influencing public opinion on the subject of combinations and community of was pressure of traffic on various kinds offerings to railr the part of those concerned in the Great Northern community of interests have caused some disquietude among speculative operators, as the future of the stock market is felt to be intimately bound up with that ef the mass of securities concerned in that transaction. The formal pronouncement by the president of the Great Northern given to the public at the beginning of the week was much discussed. Those who accepted the statement as a plea of non-intervention by State authorities against the Northern Securities Company saw in it one of the signs of solicitude which might argue a less confident frame of mind among the projectors than is publicly professed.

Another development which caused disquietude, was the report of decreased earnings for the third week in December, as compared with the previous year of the most representative railroad systems in the West and Southwest. Explanations are offered that severe cold weather Taused a check to railroad traffic that is only temporary; that the cutting of freight rates, which probably had to do with the decreased earnings, is also only temporary; that comparisons are made with an extraordinary level of earnings last year, especially in the southwestern regions.

The undertone of speculation has remained confident, and the belief prevailed that the passing of the year and money requirements would be followed by a rise in prices such as is not unusual in the stock market. The clearing conditions in the copper trade, the extraordinary activity in the iron and steel industries, the unprecedented holiday trade, the prosperous conditions of general business and evidences of relief from the prolonged crises in Germany, are all looked to benefit the future stock market.

There has been a good absorption of bonds during the week. United States coupon bonds and the old 4s advanced ¼, and 1s coupon 1/2 per cent. from the closing call of last week.

London Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram says: "Business was quiet on the Stock Exchange today, but the tone was still unsatisfactory. American stocks showed a better tendency, but this merely reflected New York advices, as English buying is practically nil. Prices ruled slightly above parity, but Baltimore and Ohio, Atchison and Union Pacific were the best features. Copper was slightly better. Money rates were unchanged."

Treasury Statement. WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold in the division of redemption, shows: Available cash balance, $173,846,531; gold, $116,144,361. Consols and Silver.

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—May wheat opened %6% higher, at $2%682%, and quickly sold to $2% under the unexpected help of Liverpool cables, which showed an advance in the face of the weakness on this side yesterday. For a time prices held steady on a fair amount of local buying. Reports showing that stocks were accumulating at ing that stocks were accumulating at primary points, gave rise to the natural expectation of a big visible report Monday, this serving to weaken bull confidence somewhat. The feelings of holders were further molested by the decline in Liverpool spot markets, which made the advance in futures at the market look like manipulation from this side. The support which has been forthcoming for May by local operators failed to appear, and as there were numerous stop-loss orders at that figure, the market broke sharply to $14,681%, and closed weak, % under yesterday, at $15%.

An Association of Experts.

The impression sometimes gets abroad that because a physician cures more quickly than is ordinarily thought possible, his medicine and treatment must include things that the ordinary physician is unacquainted with. In a measure this is true. Dr. Meyers & Co. have adopted the best remedies that human investigation has discovered, and while they are known to all capable and well-informed physicians, yet their best application is only known to one who has wide experience in administering ly for each patient. The value of such treatment is shown by immediate improvement, fresh strengh and vigor. During 20 years constant practice no failure has ever been made. We are justly proud of having the largest practice in the West.

Contracted Disorders.

In treating diseases of this nature, our methods are based on the most recent advances in medical procedure. Outside of the able specialists associated with foreign governments, we know of not a single physician whose method of treatment is as painless, as speedy and as thorough as we are practicing. Not only do we employ remedies of unquestioned superiority, but in prescribing them we modify them to each patient, so that the best and most satisfactory results may be obtained.

Varicocele. This allment, which is so frequently misunderstood by physicians who have not studied it in its every form has received a large share of our attention and our success has been largely due to a form of treatment which we have perfected after years of study and practice. Many thousands of cases have been treated, with ne disappointments or unsatisfactory cures.

Weakness.

No ailment of man brings to its victim greater discouragement. hopelessness and terror than weakness. Fertunately nature has ordained that the functions of sex shall be the last to succumb to age. In the large majority of cases, weakness is found to be the result of an exhausted nervous condition, impoverished blood or a local derangement of the pelvic system.

Sale of Clothing for Men and Women

Tomorrow morning we inaugurate our annual New Year's clothing sale. Broadway customers have learned to look forward to this sale, expecting the greatest values of the year. They never have, and never will be disappointed. We take account of stock on the 1st of January, and all stock must be reduced to the lowest possible limit. to allow the department buyers room and money for spring stock. One of the fundamental principles of this business is never to carry goods from one season to another. Our clothing stock is unusually large and will therefore require unusual efforts on our part to reduce it to the lowest possible limit. This clothing sale will be purely a conquest of price. Never before have such dependable, up-to-date, ready-to-wear garments for men been placed before the purchasing public of Los Angeles, at such remarkable low prices. In some cases the lines have been cut to cost, and in many cases far below cost.

tongue in Los Angeles wagging. It's a fitting close of the most prosperous season ever enjoyed by our cloak and suit department. Mind you, there's not a garment in our stock but is fresh, clean, bright and crisp; no shop worn, time-honored relics, but merchandise that will look you squarely and fairly in the face and boldly declare this is my first season on earth. $2.48 Silk Waists $1.75 | Women's $8.69 Jackets $5.98 These waists are of fair grade, soft taffeta silk, made with tucked fronts in all the wantable colors, including black, attractively made and neatly finished, a good seriously affect her military usefulness. Sandy Point, in the Straits, would naturally be the first point of attack on the part of Argentina, for, with her superior force, if would be reasonable to expect her to take the initiative. While treaty stipulations between the two countries make those straits neutral, agreements don't count for much in time of conflict, especially in this case, where a position would otherwise become an advance base for the energy to threaten the Argentine coast, or, on the other hand, be a very desirable base for the advancing Argentine forces otherwise dependent on Bahia Blanca, nearly 1800 miles to the rear. Sandy Point, likewise called Punta Arenas—the place the Newark barely made when her coal gave out on her trip to the Pacific's short while agois well-nigh of mushroom growth, and from a village has grown into a large and prosperous town. Six years ago the place was not fortified, but the Chileans have centered too many interests and too much of their wealth there not to have reared defenses since, and while this country would not councemarcal use of the straits, still it is almost certain that the first blow would be struck near Sandy Point, and policy suggests that Argentina, if moved to wrath, could not strike there too soon after the declaration of war. The odds would be doubly in her favor then.

Among his friends two Kings are proud to be numbered, Edward of England and Victor Emmanuel of Italy, both of whom are indebted to the inventor for extraordinary favors. Who Edward was Prince of Wales, Marcenstalled his system of wireless telloraphy on the royal yacht and sent day bulletins to the Queen during the lness of the Prince. Three years ago

Those who know him best were not surprised at the news of what the world regards as his greatest success, but only those who were closest to him understood what the accomplishment of trans-oceanic telegraphy meant to him. Over a year ago he became engaged to an American girl, Miss Josephine B. Holman, and when an intimate friend asked him when he expected to get married he replied:
"Not until I have done the big thing."

married he replied:

"Not until I have done the big thing."
The "big thing" was the electric brigging of the Atlantic, and now that he has shown that it can be done, it is not at all unlikely that the wedding will occur next spring. Miss Holman is an Indianapolis girl, who has fived for nearly two years in New York—and the story of Marconi's wooing and winning is interesting. The two young people met on the St. Paul in October, 1899, on the way to England, and the acquaintance, romantically begun, rip-

Naturally enough, Marconi likes the praise of men, but he says it has been their adverse criticism which spurred him on through all his early work.

"In the beginning," he says, "I had the whole scientific world against me, saying and doing everything possible to upset me, but I want to state that I feel very grateful to them for their opposition. Particularly do I wish to thank the leaders who continually opposed me. I do not think I would have been half so successful as I have but for them. And when they changed their attitudes they helped me, too. It had a very good effect upon the public confidence in my work. If they had taken no notice of me at all, it would have done me more harm than anything else. Their criticism made me anticipate a feeling of future satisfaction when I should have the satisfaction of showing them they were Very few Americans are familiar with the previous attempts to attain trans-Atlantic telegraphy without wires, but as long ago as 1850 two Frenchmen had a plan of sympathetic telegraphy by which they hoped to communicate between Paris and New York. Machines were actually eracted in the two cities and thousands of dollars spent in experiments. A public exhibition was arranged for, but before the great day arrived one of the projectors disappeared, and when he was afterward found he had gone insance. less), on the way to England, and the acquaintance, romantically begun, ripened to a close friendship before the girl returned to New York that winter. After that, Marconi's zeal to carry out his trans-Atlantic plans increased tremendously, and a year ago last summer he found it possible to take a vacation in the Adirondacks, where Miss Holman was then staying. It is said that the young lady was not at all dazzled by his fame, and that Marconi found it difficult to propose in the American fashion until one afternoon the two wandered away from their chaperon, and while they were lost in the woods the important questlon was settled.

fate, for one employé does nothing but care for the stories that are printed about him. From all over the world these clippings come. Some are in Chinese and Japanese. There is not a single civilized country which is not represented in the vast collection.

Marconi is modest, rather self-centered, and very quiet and retiring in his manner. He does not claim priority in wireless tesegraphy, "I am sure," he says, "that if I should ascribe the original idea of electric telegraphy without wires to any man, even back as far as Thales, some historian would produce evidence of an earlier method. It is not my duty to determine the credit for originality. Such a large portion of every investigator is a reflection of the lives of previous investigators, that one should be prepared to regard himself and his ideas as products of a universal evolution. If we had to depend alone upon our only source of revelation of scientific facts, the senses, starting always anew, we should not have accomplished any great invention. More than anything else, an inventor must possess the capacity to profit by experience."

But to Marconi must be given the credit of the-combination of infinite patience, acute observation, practical skill and an active imagination, which brought about his being the first to send a recorded message through space by electro-magnetic waves, which he accomplished in 1894, the first to send a wheless signal across the Atlantic.

Very few Americans are familiar with the previous attempts to attain Maude Adams not Afraid.

It seems that Sarah Bernhardt and Maude Adams will really play "Romeo and Juliet," but not in English, Bernhardt's manager, Maurice Grau, and Charles Frohman were in a dilemma when Bernhardt informed them that she simply could not learn Romeo in English.

Miss Adams was perfectly well aware that Mme. Barnhardt was as interested as she (Miss Adams) was in the proposed performances, and that it was no whim or caprice of the French acters that had caused her to declare a performance in English impossible. So she determined to meet the emergency. "I have tried my best," Mme. Bernhardt had sent word to Mr. Grau, "to do as I had agreed to, and all summer I have gone over the role and turned the matter over and over in my mind. But no! no! no! I find it absolutely impossible. I want to undertake the tour with Miss Adams, but what can I do! I simply cannor learn it. Now here is my proposition: Ask Miss Adams if she will play Juliette in French and let me speak my own language. "Yes," and all is settled. We shell make a tour of one hundred nights in America. "No"—well, in that case I do not see how we can go on."

Belasce's Intuition.

Several years ago, when Edythe Chapman, James Neill's leading woman, was a student in the New York Lyceum School of Acting, she was told that it would be folly for her to continue the career she had chosen. Franklin H. Sargeant, then as now the head of the school, and then as now recognized as one of the best judges of dramatic art in the country, was the man who discouraged her. He said she never would make an actress. Miss Chapman had been teaching elocution in a school at Galesburg, Ill., and in that way had carned enough to pay for a year at the Lyceum School. The course was for two years. Where to get the second year's tuition was a question that seemed to have nothing but a negative answer. The only way seemed to be to go back to Galesburg. The discouragement offered by Sargeant was disheartening, himost numbing, but like all those who possess talest, Miss Chapman felt somehow that she would be an actress—in time.

This substratum of self-confidence might not have been sufficient to carry her through the anxiety and doubt of another year had it not been for the encouragement of another man, then an instructor in the Lyceum School, now believed to be the one man in the world of dramatic production who has geniue, who might if he felt so incined—so his ardent admirers say—start a Bernhardt factory, or produce from some stray plastin material another Irving or Duse. That man was David Belusco. He had worked with her, had seen her make an unusual success of Greek tragedy, and he had faith in her future. That was in the days before Belusco had become a name to conjure with, before "The Charity Ball," before Leslie Carter. And the state of his finances was in direct ratio to the extent of his fame. He was a struggling dramatic instructor with an expensive family. Yet nothing more surely indicates his insight than the judgment he made at that time of the young aspirant whom eargeant had declared hopeless. When than the judgment he made at that lime of the young aspirant whom ear-grant had declared hopeless. When Miss Chapman left New York to return to Galesburg, Belasco with his secre-tary, Roeder, who has ever since been with him, came to the frain to see her off. Belasco had a bunch of violets; Roeder a box of candy. It was not garded with more curiosity than admiration, and in Carl Wagner, a German of no unusual talent. But Irving, terry, the Kendalis, Felix Schweigh-ofer, Mrs. Langtry, Ellailine Terriss, Seymour Hicks and Olga Nethersole reappeared. Last year, the east always more fortunate than the west, had Mr., Willard again and Miss Nethersole, as usual. Helene Odilon was the only newcomer. John Hare, with the aid of Irene Vanbrugh and a good Pinero comedy, won the success that he had twice failed to get. Bernhardt and Coquelin did not have to break new ground. While taking account of the present season, an expectant glance may be taken at the next. Eleanora Duse will come for her third tour and Charles Hawtrey for his second. They are the only certainties, but Tomaso Salvini may accompany Duse, and George Alexander. Charles Wyndham and Beerbohm Tree may come. A likely plan is for John Hare to occupy the Savoy the whole season in comedies. Some of the Robertson plsyg would be used. The fact that Pinero is writing a play for Hare may keep him in London or bring him on another one-play tour. Los Angeles will get none of these foreign artists, though there is a possibility that Duse will come as far west as San Francisco, in which event she will not escape Southern California.

there was no such thing in the works as a railroad.

"For the conveyance of heavy merchandise sixty years ago inland canals furnished the principal means. Though there were three such water routes between Manchester, my birthplace, and London, they were sometimes so octowed that cotton took a month to pass from the seaport to the manufacturing towns in the interior; yet the whole of the merchandise passing between London and Manchester did not average more than 1200 tons a day.

She told me that the iron-heel fixed on them looked like a railroad finck. So one day soon after I journeyed off several miles just to look at Irack. They had only begun asperimenting with loomotives then.

The road that may actually be restricted as the mother of British railways, as we now understand them, was the Stookton and Darlington road, but its triumph was in the coal faida. "A successful answer to this question was first given by the Liverpool and Manchester Railway. In 1824, I am told, the merchants of Liverpool formed a company to build the road, although rarliament did not pass a bill authorising the venture until two years later."

At a short distance beyond this is the Chat Moss, which was made to har the weight of many tons where helore a foot could hardly tread in acty.

All these are matters of engineering which, in our day, are taken as things of course, and excite no especial attention. But in 1820 they were deservedly haked as marvelous specimens of skill.

THE OPENING DAY.

THE OPENING DAY.

In, sir, it's well I remember that the opening day of the Liverpool Manchester Railway," continued Meap. "It was on September 15, and it was that day that after the world conclusive evice of the practicability and efficient of railway transit. Eight locome engines, made by Stephenson in som at Newcastle, its rated on any in succession, drawing twenthe carriages, capable of containments of about 600 persons.

you got any money hid out somewhere?"
"No," replied the man; "but I'm expecting some. I have sent two poems to the Scrawl, four sketches to the Scribe, and six—"
"Say—are you a writer?"
"I should say so! Just let me read you my—"
The burglar raised a warning hand. "No," he said. "my time's limited. I've got three more houses on my list, and if they pan out as bad as this one, I won't have any breakfast. I'll read your stuff when it's printed. I take all the mansaines. By the by—"
He paused—looked at his watch, and asked:

The Bug and the Grasshopper met on the path one day, and after reluctantly recognizing each other's presence, the Bug observed:

"If I had legs as long as yours, I'd put on a pair of trousers to hide 'em."

"And if I had your big feet, I'd keep 'em out of sight," replied the Hopper.

Once they got started, they abused each other without stint, and they had almost come to blows, when a Magpie came along and wanted to know what the fuss was about. It was agreed to leave it to her as to which had the most reason to be proud, and after a moment'sthought she replied:

"My dear friends, if the Grasshopper has extra long legs, it is because Nature made him for a jumpist, and if the Bug has extra big feet, it is because he must roll heavy burdens before him. There is really no occasion for dispute between you; but, being you have a quarrel, and being that it has been left to me to decide, and being that I wish to see justice done, why—"

And she snapped them up and swallewed them down and went her way, feeling that she had settled the case on its merits.

Moral: Our quarrels bring profit only to others.

he took an awful lot of beating.

Mr. Haggin is building a residence on this farm of 5400 acres (purchased at an average of $105 per acre.) that is just as far ahead of all other residences in Kentucky as the Vanderbilt palaces surpass all other residences in New York. The plans call for an outlay of $230,000, and it would not be surprising if $330,000 was reached before all the bills are paid. The stone walls about the farm recall the elegant old estates of England, and, as for the stabling, there is nothing in England that begins to compare with it. The ten stallions are kept in a fire-proof stable with iron roofs, and in Gerry way the very best stable I ever saw in my life. But I think the barn is worth more than the horses it contains, for they are a singular mixture of tyros and failures. Imported Order has been fairly good, and Salvator has one or two clever selling platers to his credit. Imported Juvenal, a splendidly inbred Stockwell horse, has only Chacornac to do battle for him, and Bathampton's winners can be counted on your fingers. The only horses I saw that I really

After we had inspected the stallions and mares, the major led us into the beautiful old house, where we sat down to a dinner of roast turkey and home-cured ham that would have made old Lucullus take a back seat. It was nearly dark when the hospitable gates of Castleton closed behind us, and we reached Lexington in the midst of a driving snowstorm.

The next day was Sunday, and we were all invited out to spend the day at McGrathiana with Col. Milton Young, president of the Southern Turf Congress. The place was founded, about twenty years ago, by the famous Long Branch gambler, Price McGrath, Young, at one end of the great dining table, and his accomplished daughter at the other, dispensed the hospitalities of McGrathiana in the good old southern way. There was no lack of all the good things of this world. The day waned along and as darkness came on the carriage came to the door, and through frost and snow, the magnificent big red chestinuts of Col. Milton Young whisked us back to Lexington in forty minutes, leaving behind one of old Kentucky's most genial hosts and lovellest of homes.

As the service requires men of intelligence and education, its cost is much itess than it would be were the work less repellant than it is to the class of men needed for it. The fact is that the cailing is adopted as a last resort by men who are qualified for better employment, but who have drifted into currents of misortune that are eddles from which they are glad to escape by any means that may occur.

When a man has nothing to do he cannot afford to despise $2 per day, if he can earn it honestly. That is what the "spotter" gets. He is allowed $1.25 per day for car fares, but there is nothing in that for himself, as it must be used, if trouble is avoided, in riding upon the company's cars. As to the prospects of advancement, there is little to encourage ambition. A "chief spotter" is paid $2 per day. The road toward advancement ends there.

Despite all the care taken to keep the work secret, the "spotters" frequently become known to the conductors, who immediately have their suspicions aroused if any one on board the cares take to take a particular interest in what is going on. Complete as the detective system appears to be, there are ways and means of shutting the eye of a spotter which a conductor disposed to steal still serks successfully.

These employes know that they are made every portion of the line thoreand the start of the s a sety, and the result is disastrous to them.

A conductor dismissed recently for them.

It is a conductor dismissed recently for the care of children, as the mornality among infants is actually 40 per cent. It is a conductor the cent.

This shows how little the secret service is feared, while the detection of the disministy of the conductor reveals how reall the "apotters" do their work, and the large amount paid yearly by the trolley companies for their detective much benefit from their search branch.

Editor: Can't use your joke, young feller.

Humarist: I don't see why not! That we have been used by some of the best seems in this country.—[Chicago News.]

earnings. To him in the most literal hour of time he loses figures of his home and in the well-being of his family. Those figures on the pay-envelope that represent a "lay-off" enforced by sickness have their own story of suffering and struggle. Many times when the man does work, he works in suffering, for he cannot face an altogether empty pay-envelope, because that would mean an empty larder and hungry little ones at home. Very often the figures that represent the loss of time do not represent the total loss of money which has be spent on medicines that did not cure, or been paid to doctors who did not seem to understand the case. Here is a working man's story as he tells it himself, which will appeal to every other worker who knows what it is to "lay off quite often two and three days in a week" on account of sickness.

week" on account of sickness.

"About ten years ago I began to have trouble with my stomach," writes Mr. Wm. Connolly, of 535 Walnut St., Lorain, Ohio. "It got so bad that I had to lay off quite often two and three days in a week; my stomach would bloat, and I would belot up gas, and we in awful distress at such times. I have employed and been treated by the best doctors in this city, but got no help whatever. Some said I had cancer of the stomach, others catarrh, others dyspepsia. I have bought and tried everything I saw advertised for dyspepsia and stomach trouble, but continued to get worse all the time. About twelve months ago I was in such a condition that my friends had some fear about my recovering. I called a doctor and he found me in very bad shape. Hands and limbs were cold and dripping with a cold sweat. He told me that I had a very bad case of chronic indigestion, and ordered an injection of hot soap suds every two hours. I followed his directions and it seemed to relieve me. I was under his treatment until this spring, but did not improve any. By some way or other I happened to get hold of a viat of your 'Pellets,' and I thought they helped me. It was then I wrote to you for advice. You told me that by my symptoms you thought I had liver complaint, and advised the use of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' in connection. These medicines I have taken as directed, and am very happy to state that I commenced to get better from the start, and have not lost a day this summer on account of my stomach. I feel tip-top, and better than I have for ten years."

There are two or three statements in Mr. Connolly's letter which on account of my stomach. I see tip-top, and better than I have for ten years."

There are two or three statements in Mr. Connolly's letter which are almost identical with statements made by thousands of others who have been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This shows that his experience is a common one among working men, and his cure and the means by which it was accomplished are, therefore, matters of interest to every fellow-worker.

"I have employed and been treated by the best doctors in this city, but got no help whatever."

"I have bought and tried everything I saw advertised for dyspepsia and stomach trouble, but continued to get worse all the time."

"These medicines ("Golden Medical Discovery" and "Pleasant Pellets") I have taken as directed, and am very happy to state that I commenced to get better from the start, and have not lost a day this summer on account of my stomach."

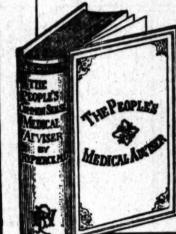

These three facts in Mr. Connolly's experience are borne out by the experience of thousands of others. Doctors employed without benefit. Many medicines used and the condition growing worse instead of better. Finally the trial of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, with improvement from the start and in a short time a perfect and a permanent cure. You have a working man's word for these facts, and the word of thousands of fellow-workers to back him up.

Don't be fooled into trading a substance for a shadow. Any substitute offered as "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery" is a shadow of that medicine. There are cures behind every claim made for the "Discovery," which no "just-as-good" medicine can show.

Too Much Holiday Fun and Folly

Too much of a good thing! That's what we are all liable to take during a holiday season. Healthy, jolly people will do it and make themselves sick. "In time of peace prepare for war," and have about the house a pleasant, perfect, palatable, positive medicine for sour stomach, sick headache, colic winds, belching, biliousness, furred tongue, lazy liver, constipation, bad breath, bad taste, all liable to result from holiday over-indulgence. Cascarets Candy Cathartic is what you want; a tablet after a big meal will prevent sickness, or a tablet at night before going to bed, after a good time, will fix you all right for morning, and let you get up clear as bell, ready for business or pleasure.
